The Mule

A cheerful critter is the mule; his disposition's bright and gay; His "Hee-haw" cheers us like the deuce, it's such strayed, comes close up to the window sill, and tries to make taruso fade. We must admit in cannot sing, however earnestly the tries but he has such good he tries, but he has such good traits, by jing, that we forgive his frantic cries. How patiently he drags the plow, how earnestly low grub that horse or cow would pass up with a high disdain! He doesn't stall around or shirk, though roads be long and days be hot; he's always ready for his work, and never dies unless he's shot. And yet we greet the mule with ieers, make him the butt of jokelets raw, because he has too many ears, and cannot sing like Ellen WALT MASON.

FEARS FELT FOR STEAMSHIP.

The F. J. Luckenbach, Several Days Overdue From Port Tampa, Fla.

Grave fears are felt for the safety of the American steamship F. J.
